ANEW CENTURY FESTIVAL

Philadelphia Making Elaborate Plans for Its Celebration.

Electricians Preparing the City Hall for Gorgeous Illuminated Effects. The Mayor's Reception-The Militia to Participate-Arrangements for Street Parade and Fireworks.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Electricians

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 26.—Electricians were working yesterday fitting the wires and sockets to the big evergreen trees which are to play such an important part in the decorations of City Hail in conjunction with Philadelphia's celebration of the dawn of the twentleth century. Carpenters at the same time were busy preparing bases for the trees and the decorators began placing taem in position today.

Those in charge of the celebration have solved every problem in connection with the great event except that of handling the crowds that will undoubtedly throng to the mayor's reception. At the mayor's special request this event is to be a people's reception, one open to the citizens of Philadelphia and the strangers with'n the city's gates. No invitations will be issued to anyone. The mayor and his two Directors and the members of Councils' Joint Committee will receive from 10:30 o'clock in the evening until midnish to New Year even to the city of the hadden. 10:30 o'clock in the evening until mid-night on New Year eve in the handsome reception room of the mayor's office on the north corridor of the second floor of

City Hall.

It is also the intention to throw open the ecoversation room and both chambers of Councils on the fourth floor. The corridor and the room where the mayor and his party will receive will be handsomely decorated with petted plants and flowers and the same decorative idea will be carried out in the decorations of the grand staircase on the northeast corridor. The military, which will form in a cordion about the big municipal building, and will join in a feu de joie, will, of course, City Hall. don about the big municipal building, and will join in a feu de joie, will, of course, de no police duty. The soldiery will probably break their lines at two of the four corners of the big municipal building, and the police will form so that the people pass between the lines marching in ple pass between the lines marching in two columns, one antering the building and the other departing. In this way, it is believed, little confusion will result.

More careful measures than ever before will be taken to prevent too great congestion of people about the public buildings, the plan being to so distribute the spectators that the crowd will be evenly massed in all streets facing the hali. In this way it is hoped and believed that none will be injured in the crush.
